

1-1: What will you learn in this course?

Welcome to Learn More, Study Less. First off, I really appreciate it, thank you for buying the course. I'm going to be giving you a lot of tactics and strategies, you can apply both to your studies and to the things you want to learn on your own. I'll be teaching you how you can read faster and better and retain more of what you read and I teach you also how you can take notes better so that you will learn more while you were on classes or when you're watching videos like this. I can also teach you the strategies you need to use in order to retain information longer by learning by association and connection and I am also going to give you the tips you need in order to tackle really hard ideas and build those deep inside that the foundation both of expertise and also of being able to do well academically.

Giving this and giving the nature of the program, very short videos supported that you pay attention so if you do already please get a notebook that you can take notes while you're watching the videos. Being able just to jot down ideas while you're paying attention or how you do focus on what is relevant to you or relevant to your situation. In addition I think it's also important that while I'm going thru describing tactics, even if they were for courses and strategies they're different from what you're currently studying.

Think on how you can apply that to your own studies. Mostly that is fairly general without too much work can be adapted to a variety of different subjects. So thanks for buying the course. I look forward to see you in the later modules.
